

Farbe der Forschung III

Daring Complexity, cultivating Diversity

Monocultures are a huge Waste of Land

15th – 16th of March 2024
at Heinrich-Böll-Stiftung Berlin

About the Conference

The conference "Farbe der Forschung" unites people from research, agricultural practice and the civil society for a transdisciplinary exchange. The motto for 2024 is "Daring Complexity - cultivating Diversity". Monocultures are a considerable waste of land and resources that we can no longer afford in the face of the challenges of climate change and the extinction of species. New findings from science and practice on diversity, intercropping and the foundations of life point the way to sustainable agriculture, both in the South and in the North. Business as usual is not a sustainable option.

4 Thematic Blocks

Diversity, intercropping and their success stories	Scientific foundations for mixed cultivation & diversit
Rethinking life	Digital agroecology?
